Jet Connections maintenance operations

A lasting business relation has been built between Jet Connections and EAS Services. The private aircraft management company has chosen the Catalan maintenance center for the CAMO support of their VIP B737. Jet Connections operates the aircraft for almost 10 years and selects with care PART145 to enable high quality and safety standards. EAS has demonstrated its expertise and wide experience on several checks and is proud of their consideration.

AOG Services

One of its greatest customers has chosen EAS Services to treat an aircraft suffering from major corrosion. The first European Airline in its category has selected EAS for the high expertise & quality of repair. With experienced sheet metal and composite workshops EAS also benefits from a Structural Engineering department analyzing, providing solutions and communicating directly with Airbus / Boeing Engineering. EAS Services carries out the AOG intervention racing against the clock to return the aircraft to its operations. Summer is a period with increased AOG requests. EAS is focusing on being supportive to its customers. The French MRO propose tailored services either it is technical issues or repairs grounding an aircraft.
